Sobi™ discloses payments to the healthcare professionals and healthcare organisations to increase transparency

Swedish Orphan Biovitrum AB (publ) (Sobi™) today announces that the company has made all payments and transfers of value to healthcare professionals and organisations from 2016 publicly available*, including sponsorships to attend meetings, grants and donations, speaker fees, consultancy and advisory boards in accordance with the European Federation of Pharmaceutical Industries and Associations (EFPIA) Disclosure Code. The information is made available on Sobi’s corporate web site, starting 31 May 2017.

In the rare disease community collaboration between authorities, healthcare professionals, companies and patient organisations has always been a cornerstone in the development of new and better treatments. Increased transparency provides a strong basis for continued collaboration and can positively impact the quality of research, development and manufacturing across the industry.

“Transparency is an integral part of driving a sustainable business and our quality work supporting the high integrity standards that patients, prescribers, budget holders and other stakeholders expect. The EFPIA disclosure code is an important initiative to build trust for and within our industry,” said Lars Dreiøe, SVP, Chief Quality and Compliance Officer at Sobi. “Dialogue and interaction between healthcare professionals and organisations is vital when it comes to building sustainable value to rare disease patients and rare disease communities around the world.”

*Date for final publication in all EU countries is 30 June 2017. The data will be continuously updated to this date.
